Presented by the Clement A. Price Institute on Ethnicity, Culture, and the Modern Experience; the Federated Department of History, Rutgers University-Newark/New Jersey Institute of Technology, and the Department of African American and African Studies.

PHOTO: Jacob Lawrence, (1917-2000) © ARS, NY. Another of the social causes of the migrants' leaving was that at times they did not feel safe, or it was not the best thing to be found on the streets late at night. They were arrested on the slightest provocation. 1940-41. Panel 22 from The Migration Series. Tempera on gesso on composition board, 12 x 18" (30.5 x 45.7cm). Gift of Mrs. David M. Levy.
