The Africana Studies Department presents

The Inaugural Paul Robeson Distinguished Lecture

by

Stephen Eric Bronner
Board of Governors Professor
Political Science, Rutgers

April 9, 2015 (Thursday)
7:30pm, Tillet Hall, Room 264
(Livingston Campus)

In addition to Professor Bronner’s lecture, the program will feature songs, poetry reading, spoken word performances and commentary on Robeson’s life, legacy and relevance to Rutgers University.

Co-sponsored by the Office of Institutional Diversity and Inclusion, the Paul Robeson Cultural Center, the Asian American Cultural Center and the Office of Student Access and Equity.